

Birmingham City Council Equality Policy

Vision

Birmingham is a vibrant and diverse city. This policy re-affirms the council's long standing commitment to work towards the elimination of discrimination and to achieve equality of outcomes for residents and communities in the city. This is reflected in the council's published priorities and organisational values.

Definition

The council recognises that the effects of discrimination and inequality are many and will be experienced differently by different groups of people. It also recognises the multiplicity of disadvantage – so that some people experience many different forms of inequality at the same time.

Therefore the council adopts this statement as an example of discrimination, although it is not intended to be absolutely definitive:

“Unfair or unequal treatment of people on the basis of race, colour, national and ethnic origin, culture or faith, gender, sex, sexual orientation, gender reassignment or gender identity, marital or civil partnership status, pregnancy and maternity, disability, physical, sensory or learning impairments, mental health problems, HIV status, income or age.”

Scope

The council is committed to meeting its statutory duties under the Equality Act 2010 and all statutory duties on local authorities relating to equality and to any relevant new legislation.

Policy Commitment

The council is committed to:
